OSI Food Solutions UK achieves EMAS III Accreditation

Initiative assists in continually improving environmental performance

North Lincolnshire, United Kingdom, May 16, 2011 – In December 2010, OSI Food Solutions UK achieved accreditation to the EMAS III (Eco-Management and Audit Scheme) standard.

EMAS is a voluntary initiative designed to improve companies' environmental performance. Its aim is to recognize and reward those organizations that go beyond minimum legal compliance and continuously improve their environmental performance.

This program requires that participating organizations regularly produce a public environmental statement that reports on their environmental performance.

This is the fourth OSI plant in Europe to achieve this certification. Plants previously recognized include one facility in Spain and two in Germany. OSI plans to achieve accreditation of an additional four European plants by the end of 2013, bringing the total to eight.

Copies of the Environmental Statement are available upon request.
